SUMMARY

My background, while extensive, isn't traditional. As a native New Yorker I went down south to play baseball and obtain an accounting degree from NC State.

After two years in public accounting I joined a premier finance and marketing company – PepsiCo. It was there that I embraced and honed my skills in finance, technology, human resources, operations and marketing and found my passion for improving business and making things better no matter how big or small.

An early adopter, and now expert on leveraging the Cloud, I use my leadership and transformation skills to turn strategy and vision into reality.

QUOTES

"Tom is one of the few people I know that get the importance of a functional Finance and IT relationship."

- Zach Nelson CEO NetSuite, Inc.

"Tom has an incredible commitment to excellence that is supported with his passion and drive to obtain results. In his role as CFO at Deluxe, he was able to identify problem areas, paint the vision for the necessary changes and then drive his team to successful completion."

- Sonia St. Charles CEO Davenport Group

"Tom was fantastic to work with for our Cloud implementation. He was thorough, professional, and most importantly, got the job done right. I'd highly recommend Tom's expertise to anyone undergoing a substantial technology project."

- Dave Perrill, CEO WAND Corporation
